PRESIDENT

JAMES CLENNEY

LCDR, USN (Ret.)

I hope you are enjoying your holiday season. I look forward to sharing a fun and successful year in 2023!

I know from observation of Coronado friends that individual members will continue to significantly serve the community; as care providers, law enforcement officials, knowledge sharers, elected representatives, partners in action, counselors, and involved citizens. The Chapter will do our best to support our members' community. To ensure we do things that support our mission, the Board is working on 2023's chapter goals. Please submit recommended topics for attention to your chapter officers and directors. The following information provides you with a general outline of our progress.

We have positioned ourselves to help veteran families through MOAA Foundation programs, as well as using chapter resources. We are doing what we can to support our members' personal support of service organizations.

The Chapter is in cadence with several local veterans and military organizations, including the Warrior Healing Center and Cochise Serving Veterans. These two well-known organizations are shown to have positive impacts on many veterans. Such actions call for the Chapter to sponsor both personal and financial support of our members. We are continually evaluating other organizations for partnering opportunities. If you have a recommendation for a target organization who would be a good partner for us, I recommend you let us know about it.

We will be improving our connection through electronic communication. Our target is a heightened ability to pass information; via easily administered programs; using easily accessed methods; and produced in easily read formats. We are also working to improve the method used to communicate with members and our interested information recipients. I believe that within 2023, legislative information and member supportable veteran topics will be more efficiently distributed in less complex methods to all of us.

We are working on providing a secure online ability to make membership dues payments and donations, via a MOAA designed and sponsored online system. This is an opportunity to ease the burden of payment for both you and the Treasurer. We will offer access to an online chapter subscription and donation system and the current USPS-carried paper check writing for your selection.

We have suffered some pain from within the ranks of the chapter this past year. Our losses were hard ones. As is normal for the typical chapter member, we redouble our efforts to serve our fellows while we carry the loss of a mate, share the pain of an injury, or empathize with the hurt of another. Serving each other, during times of loss, is part and parcel of the psyche of everyone who serves in a military family. Every one of you are a benefit to Sierra Vista, and I am honored to serve with you. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all. We are blessed and privileged to live here, now. You are well worthy because of your service.

V/R Jim C

Widows Tax Repealed in Total: A legislative victory in 2019 is fully realized next month.

Three years ago, surviving spouses, veteran service organizations and the entire military community were elated as the Widows Tax was repealed.

Some had been involved in advocacy efforts for decades, making countless phone calls and contending with their fair share of dashed hopes.

But in 2019, bipartisan support in Congress was at its strongest, advocates united and the mantra “Axe the Widows Tax” filled the halls of the Capitol.

President Trump on Dec. 20, 2019, signed the National Defense Authorization Act and with it came a phased-in repeal of the Survivor Benefit Plan-Dependency Indemnity Compensation (SBP-DIC) offset.

In January, the Widows Tax will be fully repealed and surviving spouses will begin receiving 100% of both their SBP and DIC benefits.

“I feel relieved. I feel that it’s almost hard to believe that it actually got changed,” said Kristy DiDomenico, a mother of two daughters, whose husband, Army Sgt. 1st Class Jason DiDomenico, died in 2018. Kristy was among thousands of surviving spouses who mobilized to change this unjust law. Some, like Kristy, made frequent trips to D.C. and shared their stories in the media. “We all just worked off of each other’s energy,” she said. “We didn’t want to let anybody down.”

She heard about the injustice from surviving spouse Edith Smith, a MOAA Life Member and longtime military advocate. “I’m elated that it’s finally coming to pass,” Smith said. “I just think it restores the dignity to my husband’s service in the Marine Corps and the integrity to the benefits he earned,” Smith said.

Kathy Prout, a surviving spouse and MOAA Life Member who worked tirelessly for 14 years for the victory, is glad future survivors will never know this was a problem. But she notes there will always be work to do to assist new survivors. “It’s not easy navigating all of the DoD procedures.....and grief,” she said.

Smith encourages everyone in the military community to use your voice to protect what’s earned. “The offset would not have been repealed without the individual participation of those surviving spouses who were affected,” she said. “Military beneficiaries have to learn to actively participate in the government they protect and defend.”

SCHOLARSHIP

DIRECTOR

Susan Atchison-Day, Ed D.

I recently received the following correspondence from Gabryella Dickey, recent graduate of Benson HS. This young scholar received a $3000 Colonel Eric R. Osborne Memorial scholarship.

Gabryella is attending Cochise College. The daughter of a retired Marine Helicopter Pilot, she, too, hopes to follow in her father's footsteps with a career in the military. She is described as having drive, determination, resilience, and high morals, keeping good company, treating others well and going over and beyond what is required, smart, compassionate, and a positive role model. Gabryella has been FFA President, Link President, NHS Historian, FFA Chapter Reporter, Grand Champion Showman (hard work and poise) and Judge, Food Pantry worker, and, Kennel Assistant. She has also received Non-Scholastic Awards in Beef and Goat Showmanship - four Grand Championships, a Reserve Championship, and a National Bronze Team Livestock Judging.

Onn 21 Dec 2022, at 6:28 AM, Gaby Dickey wrote:

“Here is a little something I wrote up for everyone, thank you so much for everything ☐

Well, I'm proud to say I made it through my first semester of being a 'real' college student. Words cannot begin to express the monumental changes my life has gone through in this semester alone. I am so thankful for the opportunities this scholarship has allowed me to experience.

Although, my career plans have changed, much as I thought they would. I am happy to say, I actually look forward to what this spring semester will bring me. Thank you for the constant support, and guidance this organization offers me.

Happy Holidays and A safe New Years.

Lots of love

Gabryella Dickey”
